

Sean Craig Biography

For over 20 years, Sean has designed and applied winding components for the web converting industry. His expertise ranges from reel spool solutions for primary tissue manufacturing to differential winding and ergonomic solutions for a variety of converting applications. He is a regular speaker for the CEMA Fundamentals for Converters Slitting and Rewinding seminars and has been published in Converting Magazine, AIMCAL Fall Technical Conference and AWEB publications. In his spare time, Sean enjoys hiking and cycling in the great Pacific Northwest.